CITIZENS WILL GATHER TONIGHT

Power Supply Is Quadrupled Here

ALABAMA POWER LOCATES PLANT IN EAST ALBANY

Future Needs Of The District Are In Consideration

SPUR TRACK TO RUN TO GROUND

General Layout To Allow Extensions At Any Time

Power available in the Decatur District will be more than quadrupled through the new 110,000-volt primary sub-station of Alabama Power company, recently announced, for which plans are well underway and major electrical equipment has been purchased, local officials of the Power company announced here today.

The new station will have a capacity of 10,000 horsepower, which will be in addition to the 3,000 horsepower already available to the district over 44,000-volt circuit from Huntsville.

A location in the vicinity of the new Connecticut Mills has been tentatively selected for the new plant, which will be modern in all respects. Every piece of equipment and all material used will be the best of its kind and subject to the rigid inspection of the engineers of the Power company. The outdoor structures will be of galvanized steel set on concrete foundations to insure strength and permanence. The switch-house will be of brick and will be similar in general architectural features to the Power company's home office building in Birmingham.

To facilitate the handling of materials during construction a spur track will be built from the L. & N. railroad well into the property.

Power for the station will be taken from the existing 110,000-volt line connecting Huntsville and Sheffield, it being possible in this way to bring into the Decatur District ample energy from the Lock 12, Martin Dam and Mitchell Dam generating plants on the east and from the Gorges Reserve Steam plant on the west. In case of emergency, the district's requirements may even be met with power taken from the system of the Georgia Power company. Few cities in the State will have a more reliable supply of electric energy as a result of these interconnections, Power company engineers pointed out.

In addition, the general layout of the new station will be such that as occasion demands, extensions can be readily made to meet the needs of the district for many years to come.

Cobb And Speaker Clear Of All Scandal Charges

BROWNING TO TAKE STAND NEXT WEEK IN HIS OWN BEHALF

Realtor Will Testify Regarding Marital Differences

PEACHES GOOD GIRL, SHE SAYS

Browning's Attorney Suggests Diary Be Read By Judge

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Jan. 27.—(AP)—Counsel for Edward Browning, after study of the testimony given the last two days here, in the separation suit brought by the realtor, against his young wife, the former "Peaches" Heenan, will endeavor to off-set this evidence, beginning next Monday.

Browning, who was denied a bill of particulars some weeks ago, has learned in two days testimony by his wife, her mother, friends and doctors, what the specific allegations of "cruelty against him" are. These charges constituted his wife's answer to his suit accusing her of abandonment.

The wife's case is complete, except possibly for testimony by an alienist. A recess was taken yesterday at the request of Browning's counsel.

The hearing will continue open to the public.

Browning's counsel is preparing a brief citing authority for the admission of a diary kept by Mrs. Browning before her marriage and ruled out by Justice Seeger.

The lawyer, John E. Mack, first offered in evidence a diary that "Peaches" had first testified was an exact copy of an original kept by her. Henry Epstein, her lawyer, later informed the court that "Peaches" had told him that the copy omitted the names of boy friends. Mr. Epstein then produced the original and both diaries were offered by Mr. Mack.

"If your honor reads the diary, you will find she was a woman of the world not the innocent girl she said she was at the time of her marriage," Mack said.

Mrs. Browning, flushed at the statement and exclaimed heatedly: "I was a good girl."

Another high point in yesterday's hearings was when Miss Marian Tussy, a friend of "Peaches," testified that Mr. Browning had offered to "make it interesting" if she would "recollect" any occurrences that might act against his wife in the separation suit. She said she promptly informed Mrs. Browning of the proposition.

Browning is expected to take the stand himself.

Stolen Car Is Thought Found

A Ford car stolen from C. H. Laughmiller on Sunday is believed to have been recovered in Birmingham as the result of activities on the part of local officers. Officers informed officials in other cities soon after the car was reported missing and Birmingham authorities later returned the information that a Ford automobile was being held at that point. It is understood that a Ford automobile was being held at that point. It is understood that a negro is held in connection with the recovery.

RIVER RISES

A slight rise in the Tennessee river here was recorded today. The local gauge showed a reading of 6.9 feet.

She's Hopeful

Frances (Peaches) Browning smiled confidently as she entered court during the hearing of her separation action against Edward W. (Daddy) Browning, New York real estate man.

CHAPLIN FORTUNE IS TIED UP AGAIN

Additional Liens Are Filed By Federal Tax Agents

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Charles Spencer Chaplin's assets were more completely tied up and Mrs. Chaplin's effort to secure alimony, awarded in her divorce suit, made more difficult today, when government representatives filed additional liens of $530,000 for alleged delinquent income taxes against the United Artists Distributing Corporation.

The new attachment was served on the distributing corporation as the agent through which Chaplin films are distributed, and collections made. The new lien brings the amount of the government's claims here up to $1,663,000.

NAMES RESTORED ON TEAM ROSTERS BY COMMISSIONER

Neither Present As Decision Is Read By O'Connor

LEONARD CASE IS BLACKLISTED

Game Back In 1919 Was Basis For The "Fix" Charges

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker today were cleared of all charges which might make them ineligible for participation in professional baseball in a decision by Kenesaw Landis and gives permission to rescind their withdrawal from baseball and return to the reserve list of the Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians respectively.

Cobb and Speaker appeared before the commissioner of baseball November 27, 1926, and were informed that Dutch Leonard, a retired pitcher, formerly with Detroit, had turned over letters to the American League stating that the game of Sept. 25, 1919, between Detroit and Cleveland had been fixed. Cobb, Speaker and Smoky Joe Wood branded the charge as false, after they learned that Leonard had included them as parties to the arrangement.

"This is the Cobb-Speaker case" said the decision by Commissioner Landis. "These players have not been nor are they now found guilty of fixing a ball game. By no decent system of justice could such finding be made, therefore they were not placed on the ineligible list."

"As they desire to rescind their withdrawal from baseball the releases which the Detroit and Cleveland clubs granted at their requests in the circumstances detailed above, are cancelled and these players names are restored to the reserve lists of those clubs."

Neither Cobb nor Speaker was present when Leslie O'Connor, secretary to Commissioner Landis passed out the typewritten sheets of the decision, nor were they represented by counsel.

Cobb was understood to be in Augusta, Ga., his home and Speaker in Cleveland.

The decision pointed out that the mere announcement of charges of the character placed against Cobb and Speaker, whatever the personality or motives of the accuser, or the scarcity, or even absence of evidence supporting the charges would be harmful to the accused players, experience having shown that a vindication by baseball authorities or even a total failure of supporting proofs, had been labeled a "white wash."

America Ready For China Treaty

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Assurances that the Washington government is ready to enter into treaty revision negotiations with both the Cantonese and Northern factions in the present civil war, were given at the state department today in amplifying the formal statement of the American attitude toward China, published last night by Secretary Kellogg.

No direct or indirect proposals for a conference between American diplomatic agents and representatives of the two factions have yet been received.

ADJACENT CITIES MAY GET POWER FROM THE SHOALS

Committee Is Told Of Plans Of Bidders By Counsel

REPUBLICAN ASKS DECISION

Speaks Believes Bids Are Made To Delay Final Disposition

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Conviction that "some of these bidders" for Muscle Shoals are being offered "solely to delay action" was expressed by Representative Sparks, republican, Ohio, at the military committee hearing on the Farmers Federated Fertilizer Corporation offer for the property. Sparks told E. L. Phillips, who would head the corporation that he did not refer to his offer but he declared there were indications that every effort was being made to defer final congressional action on the project.

"Meanwhile," he said, "we are producing power there and selling it to the Alabama Power company at the lowest rate in the world." Sparks was convinced, he declared, that "not one of these propositions for Muscle Shoals will be acted upon at this session." He repeated his demand that consideration of bids cease and that the government immediately begin fertilizer production at the Shoals.

The hearing closed the committee discussion of the Farmers Fertilizer Corporation bid and at an afternoon session the Madden bill for lease of the property to the American Cyanamid company, of New York, was to be taken up.

Under renewed criticism of the financial structure of the corporation, Phillips said he would be willing to change some features dealing with construction of additional dams. If the government builds the dams, he said, the corporation would agree to pay as rental for them four per cent of the investment.

The bill now provides that if the corporation builds the dams, the bonds, which would be issued, would be guaranteed by the government.

Phillips said he would consider another suggestion by Representative James, republican, Michigan, to increase initial paid in capital from $1,000,000 to $10,000,000 but he opposed a proposal to require the corporation to absorb any loss on fertilizer production.

James would have the corporation itself make and sell the fertilizer, while under the bill the product would be delivered at cost to a government appointed farm board for distribution.

To disturb that provision of the bill, Phillips said, would require the corporation to enter into price fixing for the fertilizer.

Replying to Representative Hill, democrat, Alabama, Phillips said he assumed the corporation would sell its power to some of the Southern power companies whose

FIST FIGHT DISRUPTS MINE MEETING AT INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 27.—(AP)—A fist fight between Powers Hapgood of Cresson, Pa., Harvard graduate and son of a prominent Indianapolis manufacturer and a sergeant-at-arms temporarily disrupted today's meeting of the United Mine Workers of America in convention here.

Hapgood, who claims to be a delegate, but whose claims the credentials committee ignored him when he attempted to speak on a resolution assailing the United Mine Workers Journal, official publication of the union, for not printing the views of the minority faction of the miners. President John L. Lewis denied him the floor and when a sergeant-at-arms attempted to seize him, Hapgood resisted. The melee followed, but soon was quelled. Hapgood claims he was denied a seat in the convention because of his opposition to Lewis. The young man recently was expelled from a Pennsylvania district of the union, because of his radical views and because it was asserted he is not a miner. Hapgood is a proponent of nationalization of the mines.

MT. VERNON CO. TO BEGIN BUILDING OF ITS BASCULE SPAN

Span To Be Of Steel And Permits Free Boat Passage

WILL RECRUIT WORKING CREW

Half a Dozen 'Minor' And Major Officers Will Be Here

Half a dozen major and minor officials of the Mt. Vernon Bridge company have arrived here to begin work on the bascule span of the Tennessee river bridge. This span will be of steel and will permit the free passage of boats up and down the river.

Headquarters will be established by the company here and working crews organized immediately.

The bascule span contract was awarded separately from the contract for the remainder of the bridge, the latter contract having been awarded the Koss Construction company.

No indication has been given yet as to the time to be required to complete the bascule span, but it was believed this span would be ready by the time the remainder of the big project is finished.

The Koss company, after having been interrupted in their work by the high waters during the holidays, now has a normal crew at work and is working both day and night shifts in an effort to overcome the one month's time loss because of the flood condition of the river during the latter part of December and the early part of January.

Third Son of Janitor Of Community Hall Is Dead

TURNER, Idaho, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The death toll following the explosion in the community hall here last night, was increased to seven this morning when a third son of James T. McCann, janitor of the hall, died from burns and shock.

A basketball game was under progress in the hall at the time of the explosion, which is believed to have resulted from leaking gas lights.

More than 200 persons were in the hall at the time.

A rainfall of only thirty-nine one-hundredths of an inch was recorded here last night. Early in the evening the drizzle was stopped in the face of a cold breeze blowing from the north.

MASS MEETINGS TO BE HELD TO OPPOSE PLANS TO MOVE COURTHOUSE

Speakers Will Urge Payment Of Poll Taxes By All Residents Before February 2

Citizens of Albany, Decatur, Austinvillle and Fairview will gather tonight in mass meetings to oppose the removal of the courthouse to Hartselle, as proposed by certain citizens of that city.

Meetings, with the speakers named, are scheduled for the following schoolhouses, beginning at 7:30 o'clock: Fairview—C. D. Patterson and J. R. Gibson; Austinvillle—F. F. Tidwell and B. L. Malone; Decatur—S. A. Lynne and T. M. Dix; Albany High—Clyde Hendrix and Tennis Tidwell; First Ward—N. F. Greenhill and M. R. Rankin; Second Ward—D. C. Almon and T. E. Williams; Third Ward—W. P. Reeves and W. V. Davidson.

KIWANIS TAKE LEAD IN FIGHT

Club Assembles To Move Against The Removal Idea

Albany-Decatur Kiwanis Club stood solidly in the fore of the movement on foot here to block the Hartselle plan for moving the county seat, today, that civic unit unanimously adopting plans of the public affairs committee, which committee is handling the part the club is to play in countering Hartselle plans.

H. R. Davis, president, called for reports from various forces interested in the fight and reports were returned by M. R. Rankin, A. A. Jones, Charles Mathews, H. L. Peterson, T. M. Dix, F. S. Hunt and B. C. Shelton, the latter making a partial report for the activities of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Committees were appointed by the public affairs board, these committees to begin work on Friday afternoon at one o'clock, canvassing the business section.

The Kiwanis Club's action today marks the great increase in interest locally to block the Hartselle move and officials believe that the effect will be dynamic in bringing other agencies in the cities into action.

HOMES WANTED BY JUNIOR CHAMBER

Likely That Listing Will Be Done To Aid Public

Within the past few weeks, so many applications have been made to the Albany-Decatur Junior Chamber of Commerce for apartments or homes here that officials of the organization are considering request that the organization establish a listing bureau to facilitate the handling of the requests.

During Thursday alone, members of the organization and members of Post H. T. P. A., who are assisting the Juniors in getting men to make headquarters here, turned seven applications for homes into the organization headquarters.

Williams Dies In His Texas Home

J. T. Williams, former local resident, died yesterday in Texas, according to telegraphic advices reaching here today. The body of Mr. Williams probably will be brought back here for interment. Mr. Williams passed away at 8 p.m. on January 26 at the United States army infirmary at Legion, Texas. He was 30 years of age and an ex-soldier.

In addition to the above mentioned speakers, other local speakers probably will be called on for short addresses in opposition to the Hartselle removal plan. Every citizen was urged to attend one of the meetings tonight, the committees advising that each citizen attend the nearest meeting to his or her home.

Announcements of the meetings were being made today in all of the local schools, the children being asked to carry to their homes the invitation to be present at this evening's conferences.

As the time limit neared on the period in which polls payments can be made, workers all over the county today redoubled their efforts to persuade people to pay the tax and qualify themselves to vote as soon as they are registered.

Polls payments continue to roll in at Hartselle, at the courthouse here and at all of the local banks, where receipt books have been placed for the convenience of the public, according to reports reaching The Daily. Scores of citizens were said to be paying back polls in order that they might participate in the campaign over the courthouse location. Every indication was that the previous high record for polls payments would be broken this year, even with the exclusion of the ex-service men who are not required to pay their polls.

HUNTSVILLE HAS VALUABLE PLANT

Announcement Made Of Expansion At Lincoln Mills

The plans of the company are understood to include the construction of three new units of a mill to be known as number 3 mill, located opposite the present site of Lincoln Mill No. 2. Construction of the first unit is well underway.

The building of the third unit will practically double the operating force and the project is likewise said to call for the building of 500 additional homes to house workers.

Willie's Weird Looking-Glass World

A RARE and mysterious mental aberration is the cause of "mirror vision," which makes its victim see things as we see reflections in a looking-glass.

Willie Cozens, 6, an inmate of the Paddington Green Children's Hospital, London, because of this ailment writes backward—his writing looks exactly like our own when we see it reflected in a mirror. If one hands him an object with one's right hand, Willie reaches out to the left for it. All printed signs seem to him to be written backward.

Mirror vision is not due to defective eyesight, but to a brain kink which prevents the right reception of an image. Normally, the rays of light carry an image upside down to the brain, where it is righted. Willie's brain fails to do this.

ATHENS FORMS A CREDIT BUREAU

Country Merchants To Be Admitted In Association

By D. L. ROSENAU, JR.
The Retail Merchants' Credit Association was formed at a special called meeting at the Court-house in Athens, Tuesday night, the gathering being attended by most of the leading business and commercial men of the town. A. B. Carter, member of the firm of Coffman and Carter, retail grocers, was elected president. Harry Kittell, of the Kittell Motor company, vice-president, and M. S. Kennerly, of Kennerly-Willis Wholesale Grocery company, secretary and treasurer. Forty-two members were immediately enrolled with a promise of more later, and intentions of admitting to membership country merchants as well as those in Athens. The association will have permanent quarters and fixtures with a paid assistant secretary in charge, so that credit information will be available on a minute's notice. Work is already being started on compiling credit data on every person in the county.

This is the first time in the history of Athens that the merchants have gotten together for the purpose of credit information, and it is believed that it will be the means of eliminating to a great degree worthless debts.

42,334 Bales In Limestone

The cotton ginning report released this morning by the county cotton statistician shows 42,334 bales of cotton ginned in Limestone up to January 16, as compared with 38,501 for the same period of last year. Joe Eaks Suffers Amputated Leg

Joe Eaks, of near Huntsville, suffered an amputated leg, as result of the member having been crushed by a train, according to a story appearing in the Huntsville Daily Times. Joe Eaks is well known here as a star baseball player, but the Huntsville dispatch, which follows, does not make clear whether or not the injured youth is the athlete.

"The young man admitted to the Huntsville hospital Monday with his right leg crushed, was identified yesterday as Joseph Eakes, 20, of Meridianville, Rt. 1. His condition was so serious when admitted that he was unable to talk intelligently. He was positively identified by his father, Jnh Eakes. For a time the case was shrouded in mystery.

"Young Eakes was taken to the hospital after being found on the Southern Railway tracks about three-fourths of a mile east of Chase. He was taken to the hospital by Deputy Sheriffs Watson and Reed who were notified of the accident while at Chase by Tom Naugher, of that place.

"Mr. Naugher says he learned of the accident when he was called over the telephone by Mrs. Trigg Carter, of Ryland. The Ryland home was notified when a negro came to the house with the information, saying a young man had given him twenty-five cents if he would come to their house and tell them. It has been learned that this person passed the Trigg farm traveling from the direction of Chase.

"Authorities are of the opinion that the couple were riding a freight train. When Eakes fell under the train, presumably his companion sought to spread the alarm of the accident by notifying the first farmhouse he came to and keeping his identity from being known. Why he wished to hide his identity is unknown.

"It was necessary to amputate Eakes' leg above the knee. He is in a painful condition though not considered serious."

HERBERT S. DEE, RICH DETROITER, IN 5TH DIVORCE

Real Estate Man To Ask Freedom After Two Months

EPISODES HAVE BEEN UNUSUAL

Whirlwind Marriage Fails To Last For Wealthy Man

DETROIT.—(INS)—Herbert S. Dee, wealthy Detroit realtor, is about to enter the divorce courts again.

Dee, having failed to find marital happiness in five tries, states that he will soon begin a suit for divorce from his fifth wife. The fifth Mrs. Dee, formerly Mrs. Helen Jones, a sprightly widow of San Antonio, Tex., and Dee were united in Utica, N. Y., Nov. 13 last. Their domestic life lasted two months.

After they had settled in balmy California in a home right next to one Dee purchased for his fourth wife, the fifth Mrs. Dee deserted him, the realtor charges. A luxurious eight cylinder car and $3,800 held in a joint bank account, also disappeared, Dee says.

Dee didn't lose a day between his fourth divorce and his fifth marriage. When Dulcie Agnes Dee, former artists model, who resided in Canton, O., at one time, divorced him, after property settlement was reached out of court, Dee promptly took unto himself a fifth wife. On November 12 he was divorced. On November 13 he was married.

Distaster On Honeymoon
Dee's fourth marriage went on the rocks during a two weeks honeymoon on his palatial yacht, "The Gigare" on Lake Erie. Other couples were abroad.

"We made the trip safely," Dee said, "but the weather was so rough we decided to send our wives back by train while we brought the boat in. We were delayed 24 hours and during this time, my wife, amused our friends by telling them I was an 'old fool' and that she married me solely for my money."

The fourth Mrs. Dee, in her bill, had a few remarks to make about her husband's conduct.

"He boasted of spending $45,000 in a year on women and wine," she declared. "He enjoyed relating his affairs with pretty women from circuses and burlesque shows. During our married life he continual-

SICK HEADACHE

No Pleasure, Says Ohio Lady, to Go Places, Till She Took Black-Draught Which Brought Relief.

Langsville, Ohio.—"For years and years I suffered with severe headache," says Mrs. Jane Campbell, of this place. "It wasn't any pleasure for me to go places, for I came home with sick headache. If I went to church or to any social gathering or to town to shop, when I got back I would have these headaches and have to go to bed for a day or more, till I would just get out of heart and would not try to go."

"About 15 years ago I discovered that Black-Draught was good for these headaches. I began using it. I would take it two or three nights in succession if I felt the least bad, and it sure did wonders for me. It is about 14 years since I had sick headaches, and I can go places and really enjoy life. It surely is splendid."

Headache often is a symptom of constipation. The best relief is secured by treating the cause of the trouble and in such a case many people have been greatly helped by the use of Thedford's Black-Draught.

bid for the project now is before congress, although, he said, no conferences to that end had been held. He explained however, if any city adjacent, requested power it would be given over the corporation's own transmission lines.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—With two hours remaining for its consideration of the Reece bill to lease Muscle Shoals to the Farmers Federated Fertilizer Corporation, the house military committee today heard a technical analysis of the bid from E. L. Phillips, engineer, who would be in charge of the project for the corporation.

The committee decided in executive session to close the Reece bill hearing at noon and then take up the Madden bill to lease the property to the Air Nitrates corporation, a subsidiary of the American Cyanamid company, of New York. Phillips said he agreed to undertake the Shoals project after long study and had decided it could be made a paying business proposition. He said he felt qualified to handle the developments because of his experience with even larger industrial enterprises.

He said the $1,000,000 with which the corporation plans to start work was a guarantee that it would produce fertilizer, however, he added, if the government farmer board, created under the board, failed to find markets for the fertilizer, the whole project would fail.

THE GOLDEN ROADS.

By WINIFRED VAN DUZER

Gay Moore and her cousin Christine Nee, who have been raised together by Gay's parents, affectionately called Jamie and Mary, are employed in the Wall Street house of Johnstone Baird, Christine as telephone operator and Fay as a typist. Christine has determined on making a rich marriage and sees opportunity knocking on her door in the person of Roger Pennington, chum of Stanley Baird. She wants Gay to leave home and take an apartment in Greenwich Village. Gay refuses. Gay is strongly attracted to Stanley Baird, and on returning from luncheon one day finds a box of yellow roses on her desk, which she surmises have been sent by Stanley. Peggy Baird and her friend, Mimi Brooks, come to the office and on making an insulting request of Christine, are "put in their place" by Christine to the intense amusement of Stanley, who leaves the office with them. As Gay watches their departure, little chills creep around her heart.

The two of them, skipping thru the lobby, laughing, chattering, joyous. A car out in the street half as long as a Pullman; gleaming nickel and glass, a crest on the door.

"Gay, it's them! Maybe—oh, now they've seen!" Christine waved airily, darted forward, laughed up at Pennington. Gay, standing uncertainly, saw them beckon; now Christy was coming with Stanley Baird.

"Listen, Shyness! Mr. Baird wants us to go for a drive. Come on, Gay, be an angel for once." He was holding out his hand with a little-boy grin.

"Why so staid-offish, Miss Moore? Or may I call you Gay? Ripping name! Come for a little ride?"

Gay forced herself to meet the merry eyes. "But we can't, you see. We've planned something."

"Oh, that! Christine put up both hands. "She'll come."

Gay was walking toward the car; she heard Baird say, "You drive, Pen." felt his hand on her elbow, helping her into the back seat.

will be no one there this time of day.

"Well, all right—" It seemed like a dream to her; the restaurant as glittering as any in the city, deserted now; the dainty luncheon; Baird's nearness, his concern for her.

Then cocktails were brought—a new experience. She never had sat at table where cocktails were served. Soon she was staring in amazement at Christine's hilarity, her attempts—not always successful—to evade Penny's kisses. He was noisy; frankly eager to acquire "an edge."

"But you haven't touched your glass, Gay. Something else you'd rather have?"

"Thank you. I don't care for such things, Mr. Baird."

"Neither do I then. That's my last. Do something?"

"Maybe."

"Ah—she doesn't trust him. Will she say 'Stan'? That's not so much, is it?"

She laughed and repeated his name.

"Sweet! Take off your hat, Gay."

OKLAHOMA SOLONS CURB GUN TOTING

Legislature Seeks A Law Against Any Gun Carriers

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—(INS)—Chicago's gang warfare with machine guns has taught Oklahoma a lesson.

A bill which seeks to insure Oklahomans against such violent feuds as the Windy City and southern Illinois have experienced in the last two years will soon be considered by the state legislature.

The bill will represent one of the most drastic measures ever attempted by any state to curb "gun toting." It will provide that machine guns cannot be owned in Oklahoma except by the military service; by county officials or by police departments.

Going further, the bill prohibits the ownership of pistols unless the firearms are registered with the state bureau of criminal investigation. R. C. Graham, another of the measure, proposes a pistol licensing law similar to the Sullivan act of New York, except that he would go a bit further. He would provide that after owners have licenses must be filed with the state crime bureau.

An attempt was made two years ago to get a copy of the Sullivan law through the Oklahoma legislature, but influences too powerful to overcome prevented enactment of the bill.

World Trade Shows Growth

WASHINGTON.—Trade between the principal nations of the world in October, 1926, was greater than in any other month since March, 1926, though less than in October, 1925, according to figures just compiled by the Statistical Research division, Department of Commerce.

Exports from the United States totaled $455,600,000 against $448,700,000 in September and $490,600,000 in October, 1925. Exports from the United Kingdom were $308,200,000, Germany $209,400,000, France $179,400,000 and Canada $131,500,000. For September these countries showed United Kingdom, $285,200,000; Germany, $199,100,000; France, $148,100,000 and Canada $93,300,000. In October, 1925, the figures were United Kingdom $389,700,000, Germany $201,500,000, France $193,800,000 and Canada $144,500,000. Thirteen of 18 principal trading nations showed increases in export trade and nine in imports from September to October.

Health Tax To Be Added In Turkey

Italy Is Planning Open Air Theatre

By International News Service ROME.—Italy is to have two more open air theatres.

One will be at Ostia, which has become the favorite resort for Ministers and the elite of Roman society on Sunday afternoons, and will be inaugurated with classical tragedies.

The other theatre is to be at the Villa Celmontana on the Caesarian and can seat some 4,000 spectators. The main entrance is on the Via San Sebastiano, between two great pine trees. The stage, backed by pines, flowerin gshrubs and laurels, is set in a formal garden, and will be illuminated by candelabra swung from loggias and by fountains—a theatre, in short, that Renaissance popes and humanists would have patronized. The construction will probably occupy eighteen months.

Fat Turkish Women Overeat

By International News Service CONSTANTINOPLE.—"We eat too much in Turkey," declared Mustapha Kemal recently in an address before the Association of Restaurant Keepers in Constantinople. "That is why our women are so fat."

It appears that the young Turks want their wives to wear modern frocks, and in order to do this they must become much thinner.

Miss Sara Tuck of New York city, has been charged by the head of the government to teach the maitres d'hotels in Turkey culinary art as it is known in America. No longer will the menus carry ten or twelve dishes. The regime of ham and eggs is about to begin in the Orient.

MILLIONS SPENT TO FIX PALACE

Landmark Must Be Saved Against Time Inroads

By CHARLES A. SMITH International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON.—Nearly five and a half million dollars will have to be spent on the Palace of Westminster, better known as the Houses of Parliament, during the next twelve to fifteen years to save it from destruction.

This is revealed in a Parliamentary memorandum here explaining the serious state that the building is in and setting forth the proposed methods by which it is hoped to prevent the pile from crumbling away.

The memorandum, which has been prepared by some of the most eminent architectural authorities in the country, states that owing to geographical defects and the effects of the London fogs and damp air, the yellow sandstone used in the construction of the building is rapidly crumbling away.

It is now proposed to replace all the defective stone, and after careful consideration of all possible materials, it is recommended that a silicious sandstone be used to repair the main portion of the building.

The actual cost of the erection of the Houses of Parliament was over $10,000,000, and it is pointed out in answer to suggestions to completely rebuild the building that a new Chamber would cost approximately $60,000,000 at present rates.

A start will be made on the Terrace of the House of Commons, where pieces of stonework have been falling for some months past.

"Take off your hat, Gay," said Stanley. "There, you look like a yellow rose."

CHAPTER 7

Saturday mornings were different from the rest. Other mornings plodded, bearing the burden of long, long days; other mornings were dressed in blue with white collars and second best silk stockings.

But Saturday! That tripped along on dancing feet, so light they were, so quick, so gay, bringing a shining thing—half holiday—adventure!

Tea in the gorgeousness of an uptown hotel; window-shopping on the Avenue; a bus ride past the Park; a matinee.

Saturday morning, and Gay all in flounces, pale like her hair; a floppy brimmed hat. Looking for all the world like yellow hollyhock some way grown feet.

Christine a peony in rose color; snug bodice; wide, fly-away skirt floating about her slimmness.

The two of them, an eye on the clock, fingers flying. "A ride up the river'd be nice, Christy. There's a boat leaves at two."

"Well—listen; the shops have the fall styles. Let's lunch at the Van Rensselaer and look around."

Tap, tap, jingle at the typewriter; "Number?" at the switchboard.

Twelve o'clock.

They skimmed along, turned up town, hit the Drive. Baird talked pleasantly but she answered nothing at all; sat watching Christine's profile.

He laid his hand on hers, tight closed upon the seat. "Didn't you want to come, Gay? I've been wishing so I might know you. You in the office there with never a word for a fellow. I'll tell him to turn back if you'd rather."

Very gentle, very big-brotherish he was, and she felt ashamed. "I'm sorry. Truly! You see I'm sort of dull—not like Christy."

She turned her face then, smiling; he looked at her as he had looked the other day, going out the door.

"Oh—"

"You're sweet."

Light running in her veins, dancing, singing.

He put his arm along the back of the seat but she moved as if to settle herself more comfortably and he took it away. After that they talked about the country; he had a camp in the Adirondacks; she told him of Moorelands.

Christine called, "We're going to lunch at April Manor, folks. Penny just said so!"

"You'd like that, Gay? It's a roadhouse up in Westchester, There

There—like a yellow rose!"

"You did send them? They were darling."

"So were you—" He was serious all at once. She arose nervously, tried to catch her cousin's eye.

"We must go now. It's been gorgeous, but we must go."

Howls of protest from Penny; resentment from Christine. But Baird paid the bill quickly, helped her into the front seat, got behind the wheel. "I'm taking no chance of a week with you along," he explained.

She felt a tightness on wings.

Christine and Penny openly patted on the back seat. Shooked and worried she could see their reflection in the windshield.

Yet, when the girls were walking along the white road toward home, Gay's word of protest brought impatience from her cousin.

"You're all wrong, Miss Frozen Face. That's no way to get along, to sit back like a dummy. Gee, you've got that boy going! You can have him if you'll lift a finger."

"Thaw, can't you? Solid ice never held a live one!"

Women Refuse To Buy At Bakeries

VIENNA.—(INS)—Several bakeries in the vicinity of Vienna have been compelled to close down owing to the great reduction in the consumption of bread and pastry.

No fewer than 200,000 women and girls in the city are stated to have left off eating bread in order to keep slim; some have so starved themselves that they are seriously ill.

The new fashion is all the more remarkable because before the war a certain amount of plumpness in a woman was considered desirable.

British Unions Fail To Finance

Lady Warwick's offer was made early last year. It was felt by the Trades Union Congress that the cost of the scheme was so great that in the present state of the union's finances adequate funds could not be guaranteed.

Uncle Sam's experiences in Nicaragua remind one of the antics of the fellow who, happening to get hold of a "live wire" begs nothing more of providence than to be permitted to "let go."

There is one fact that might produce a whole lot of thought. Out of the 100 per cent of failures in the United States over a period of a year, 86 per cent failed to advertise.

While talking of forcing the Muscle Shoals issue through Congress, it might be well to remember that such talk has been prevalent heretofore.

Many people find their way to failure attempting to do things for which they are not fit. The "misfit" in American business life is really the cause for more financial trouble than any other source.

If Governor Graves could arrange a bang-up courthouse removal fight in all of the 67 counties in Alabama, the legislature would not have to worry where the $600,000 for the schools was coming from.

Scientists declare it may not be long until a telephone subscriber, having a friend engaged in crossing the Atlantic ocean, may be able to pick up the receiver, ask central for the ship and have a conversation with the voyager. How is that for progress?

If you would serve your country well, qualify yourself to vote. You have only until Tuesday to pay your poll tax. Would it not be a good thing to pay it now, before the matter escapes your mind? It is not necessary to be registered before the polls payments are made. You can pay the tax now and register later.

The Daily has teased Atlanta and Birmingham considerably about their friendly rivalry, but the pace being set by Huntsville and the Twin Cities overshadows even the Alabama-Georgia contest. No sooner does Huntsville have a story about a man who escaped jail, in order to visit a barber shop, than the Daily has a story about a man who caught a fish with his hand. Our handkerchief is aloft and waving now before this thing goes any further.

The entire Valley doffs its cap to Huntsville, that city is announcing a tremendous expansion in cotton mill facilities, a gigantic investment and thousands of labor additions. That is splendid for Huntsville, an excellent advertisement for the remainder of the Valley, just another reason why additional industries are going to settle upon Albany-Decatur, Tri City and Huntsville locations. After they get started it is a comparatively easy matter to convince them that this section is offering the best location in the nation. Again, Huntsville—Congratulations. You're one ahead of us now, but you had better keep traveling.

BUSINESS MEN WILL CONSIDER PLANS FOR CANNING FACTORY.

There should be a good representation of citizens interested in this section at the meeting next Tuesday evening, when business men will discuss with farm experts the feasibility of establishment of a canning factory in Albany-Decatur. In past years, canning factory plans have been advanced from time to time, but never have reached the stage of culmination. In those years there was not the same degree of co-operation between town and county that exists today, and at no time have prospects been any brighter for the success of such a plant, once established, than they are at present.

County Agent Ford, at the behest of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, has been engaged for some two weeks collecting information relating to the production feature of the plant. If the farmers of Morgan county desire a plant to the extent that they are willing to provide it with the necessary ingredients, such an institution should prove a great contributing factor in the development of this county and of Albany-Decatur.

The savings of the many thousands of dollars to Morgan county, which now find their way to outside points for canned produce, would help the condition of many farmers who now find themselves pressed frequently for ready cash.

REV. FRANK J. NORRIS RETURNS TO HIS CHURCH.

Rev. Frank J. Norris, a former Alabamian, but in recent years a well-known pulpit orator in the state of Texas, has returned to his duties as pastor of the church he serves in Fort Worth. Rev. Norris has been found not guilty by a jury of the murder of Dexter E. Chipps, a Fort Worth lumberman. The decision of the jury means that Rev. Norris is believed by the court to have fired at Chipps in self defense.

The role recently played by Rev. Norris, as defendant in court on a serious charge, is a novel one for a minister of the gospel. The oddity of the role made it, however, the more interesting and news of the trial was followed closely, especially by the people of the South.

The Fort Worth tragedy, no doubt, has added to the fame of the pastor. The killing and the slayer's subsequent trial has caused hundreds to know of him and his work who were not familiar with them before. The tragedy, no doubt, has made many sincere friends for the preacher among people who believed he was persecuted. On the other hand, the shooting has made enemies for the evangelist. Time alone will tell whether he has gained or lost in the exchange.

To the Daily the Norris case has furnished one lesson. Persons who are prone to seek trouble usually have trouble visited upon them in one way or another. This seems to go far the preacher as well as the day laborer in the streets.

MASS MEETINGS CALLED IN MORGAN COUNTY CITIES TONIGHT.

At 7:30 o'clock tonight in Albany, Decatur, Fairview and Austinville mass meetings will be convened by interested citizens in opposition to the plan of certain Hartselle citizens to move the courthouse to that city.

The Daily hopes that every citizen who can possibly spare the time will be present at the conferences this evening. It is important that the people of the northern section of the county become familiar with the desperate effort now being made to take the courthouse from us. Hartselle citizens are bending every effort to persuade the rest of the county that it would be reasonable, fair and just to move the county building from this point to that, despite the fact that these cities pay approximately 60 per cent of the taxes.

The people of Albany-Decatur owe it to themselves and their communities not to sit idly by, while this effort is made to remove the courthouse from here.

There are hundreds of voters in these cities who should pay their poll taxes, who should register and who should be qualified to vote, but for one reason or another, have not fulfilled their qualifications.

It is the duty of the people of Albany-Decatur to seek out those unable to vote and urge them to pay their tax and to register.

Attend the meetings tonight and help, with your presence and your moral support in the movement to off-set the Hartselle attempt.

Don't forget the mass meeting tonight. If possible, attend one of these meetings. Albany-Decatur people are progressive and one of the ways they are going to prove that progressive-ness is in the cheerfulness with which they take up the Hartselle challenge.

In the election of J. K. Hughes as vice president of the Hotel Lyons Company, the owners of that organization have made no mistake. Under the management of Mr. Hughes, who will be continued in the capacity of general manager, the Lyons has made many improvements and added greatly to its prestige. The local hostelry is known throughout the South as one of the best and its reputation is well deserved.

The application of W. P. Hampton for reimbursement for expenditures for hospital and medical treatment should receive the kindly consideration of the Alabama legislature. While in the service of the state and, in line of duty, Mr. Hampton was wounded seriously. It appears to the Daily to be nothing but fair that he should be treated, at the expense of the state.

Fred T. Barnett, of Birmingham, general secretary of the Wesley Brotherhoods of Southern Methodism, is scheduled to deliver an address at a group meeting of local brotherhoods this evening. In behalf of this community, the Daily extends him a cordial welcome. Few men in the South have done more to aid in the upbuilding of a Christian citizenship in Dixie than has Mr. Barnett.

The Koss Construction Company reports its construction crews now are back at normal strength, following the shut-down about the first of the year, occasioned by high waters. This is cheering news to thousands of Tennessee Valley residents and for tourists as well, who are looking forward to the day when the road across Swan Lake and the bridge across the Tennessee river will be completed and journeys over the Bee Line highway through here may be completed without interruption from ferries or floods.

The Alabama legislature has memorialized Congress asking repeal of the federal inheritance tax measure. The legislature deserves the support of the entire state in this endeavor. Alabama does not want an inheritance tax, Alabama has no such tax and Alabama's constitution prohibits the imposition of such a tax. Yet, under the operation of the federal statute, such a tax, indirectly, is to be collected in Alabama. The federal law provides that payments made to states shall be deducted from payments made to the federal treasury. The effect of this is obvious . . . if Alabama does not collect, Uncle Sam will.

THE CRITICAL SPECTATOR

The Views of Others

TAFT ON CRIME
Chief Justice William Howard Taft discusses the crime wave in the recent issue of Collier's Weekly. This is somewhat of an innovation because the members of the United States Supreme Court seldom break into print.

Mr. Taft urges his people to stop helping the criminal and suggests the following described ideas for adoption:

State Government must assume their duty with regard to the detection and prosecution of crimes. State Attorneys General and Department of Justice should be supervising centers for the coordination of all police officers.

The states should organize their own detective services and constabularies.

County prosecution officers should be under control of and answerable to the State Attorney General.

Give rural districts more police protection.

Provide more policemen in the largest cities.

Give judges more power in the interpretation of evidence than they now have in most states.

Simplify codes of procedure. Abolish juries in minor cases and abolish grand juries in state.

Limit delays by appeal and limit appeals to one court.

Put judges under a central, control which can assign them to districts where they are needed and thus prompt trials.

These suggestions coming from such a source, are worthy of serious consideration. When the ordinary citizen reflects that our courts do not adequately protect society against criminals it is time to make certain corrections. These, we believe, have been pointed out by the chief justice.—Troy Messenger.

MISREPRESENTATION NEVER BRINGS SOUND SUCCESS

Misrepresentation is a bad thing to deal with.

Continued misrepresentation breaks down a man's moral fibre and in the end makes a confirmed liar out of him.

There are two classes of people who misrepresent. There is one class that wilfully and maliciously misrepresents and distorts things thinking that through doing so they can slide by without ever being caught up with.

Then there is the class who carelessly misrepresents. Who make claims that they don't know if well founded or not. This class in many respects is just as guilty as those who wilfully misrepresent because people who expect to benefit by the cost of others should be interested enough in those whom they benefit by to give them the true facts as far as it is possible to obtain.

We are reminded that considerable literature is sent out concerning the Muscle Shoals District that should be investigated. Certain statements and claims that may or may not have any foundation whatsoever and upon which many real estate operators are exploiting as a means of making livelihood.

Real estate operators who include such in their literature owe it to their clients and to the sta-

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW compares Mussolini to the great Oliver Cromwell, and says British mockery of Mussolini is inspired by hypocrisy and fear. The British, according to Shaw "did not dare call Mussolini's bluff at Corfu, and are clearly afraid of him."

If Mussolini is like Cromwell there is good reason to be afraid of him, Cromwell being the only great soldier of semi-modern times that never lost a battle.

THE "bob" is going out. Those that have money abandon the bob because it is getting too common. Working girls that haven't much money give up the bob because it costs too much, takes too much time.

WOMEN ought to wear both hair and skirts short, without being foolish about either, and will do so eventually. But they ought to cut their skirts off below the knee, not above, cut their hair sensibly, so that a hair cut might last a month at least, with a nice ribbon or old-fashioned round comb to hold it back. That's how women will arrange hair and skirts some day, and then will look pretty and sensible.

C. W. NOES, twenty-two years old, ended his medical studies at the University of Wisconsin by committing suicide and promised to talk from the grave to a fraternity friend at 12 o'clock yesterday and again next Friday.

He will not talk from the grave. Our talking is done here. What we do after we leave we don't yet know, except as faith answers our questions. The young man should have used all of this life before moving on to another. No matter how dismal things may be today you never can be sure that they won't improve.

SEN. BORAH says we make too many laws. This country will be "A republic in name, and but a bureaucracy in fact," if we don't check the wholesale law-making machine.

Not all the laws are made in Washington. Forty-eight legislatures are busy. The total now laws suggested here and there number about 17,000, a fantastic figure.

However, civilization itself to say nothing of this glorious republic, is an experiment, in its infancy. Children may try things and all trying is useful. Even if they burn their fingers, that's useful. It teaches them to avoid fire.

EACH LAW is an experiment, an effort to remedy something wrong or establish something good. Once men were hanged, by law, not by lynching for stealing a horse. Now they steal automobiles and hanging for horse thieves automatically disappears.

TAKING IT EASY
We went out behind our office one day last week and watched for hours the plowman turning over the ground and smelled the new plowed ground. We would see the plow tear through roots of grass that had embedded itself in the earth. There we sat satisfied and contented watching what hundreds of farmers are doing.

Do they get pleasure out of it? Sure they do, or they would be doing something else. People love to see things grow. They love to plant and they love to harvest. They take pleasure in digging in the ground, out in the great outdoors, where the breezes come pure and sweet from fields and forests.

We could have spent the day watching this performance, but we have mapped a plan of growth of this or that for future planning. It is not remunerative in dollars and cents, but it is in pleasure and happiness.—Centerville Press.

SENATOR WADSWORTH of New York asks the senate to "banish hypocrisy from American life by repealing the prohibition amendment." Republican senators know that Senator Wadsworth was beaten because he opposed that eighteenth amendment. They don't want to be beaten, so they won't try to repeal it. They fear the prohibition question more than poison ivy, or rattlesnakes.

SERIOUS symptoms in China, according to the news. More British soldiers and Japanese warships are sent to China. The signs indicate that British, Japan and the United States have agreed on an allotment of forces to defend Shanghai. Our government says no "formal agreement" for joint action has been made. It is perhaps a gentlemen's agreement.

Modern man is depending too much on predigested food and what used to be called, "spoon vittles." We don't eat enough food which must be chewed vigorously. Our teeth and jaws are not depended upon as they were.

Too many of our foods are made from denatured materials. The husks and outer layers are removed. In consequence, the minerals which make for good bone and tooth structure are not supplied.

We must watch the teeth. They are essential to our comfort and

A correspondent writes asking if it is possible to drive a nail without hitting one's thumb.

Quite simple. Let on's wife hold the nail.

She told him he would never be great until he had known sorrow. Then she married him. That's what we call service!

Giving an apple a fancy shine makes a nickel one sell for a dime.

History repeats itself and grows tiresome.

You ask what the old town needs? It needs more men—home men of deeds.

Not men who talk—Find fault and balk But men who'll give the best they have got.

To make the old town what she ought.

You say we need more factories More stores, more schools and charities.

But in the end It's men who make them—is that true?

The thing the town needs most is YOU.

Mike: "Who wrote the greatest war song in the world?"
Leo: "Mendelssohn!"

It isn't the clothes which make the man stare—it's the women that should be in them.

Anyone who has spent a number of hours tramping around a department store in company with a woman can understand why it is possible for them to swim channels.

No man ever got lost on a straight road.

The difference in a maiden and a widow is the maiden has to run after a man to catch him while the widow catches him by standing still.

Scotland Stands Pat On Liquor

GLASGOW. — (INS)—Completion of the polling in Scotland on the prohibition leaves the "wets" and the "drys" in much the same position as before.

If the licensing justices consent—and this consent is unlikely in some districts—the "wets" will have seventeen saloon licenses restored to them, but the "drys" have balanced the scales by extinguishing twenty-eight licenses through limitation being adopted in three new areas and further limitation in four others.

The polls indicate that temperance polling is not looked upon with favor by many sections of the population in Scotland. In Glasgow, for instance, the percentage of electors was around 40, while the highest poll recorded was about 68 per cent.

Los Angeles Has Most Bathtubs Than All Others

LOS ANGELES.—(INS)—Angeles has more tubs and showers for bathing purposes than any other city in the world.

This was the text of a communication sent to Dr. George Parrish (health commissioner) by M. S. Siegel of the Bureau of Housing and Sanitation the other day.

Siegel's conclusion is based on the strict observance of the state housing and sanitation laws which provide for baths in every home and in a majority of business establishments.

Even in Los Angeles' Chinatown there are bath tubs, Siegel declared.

Siegel in his letter also intimates that the baths both in Chinatown and elsewhere are regularly used, basing this conclusion on the huge daily consumption of water.

Boys' Team Loses To Austinville

Albany Is Ready For Athens Game

Albany Hi school is prepared for the Athens Hi game, scheduled for Friday night at the Albany Hi gymnasium. The Athens team comes here with considerable experience to count upon, while the Albany team is handicapped somewhat through a lack of experience, the majority of team members being first year men. The game is expected to be hard-fought.

Decatur Girls To Play Trinity Team

Decatur Hi girls basketball team is scheduled to battle Trinity Hi girls Friday night at the Decatur Hi gym. The game was previously scheduled with Hartselle, but the latter team had contracted to play Somerville on that date and had to call off the Decatur engagement. Your Income Tax

NUMBER 10

With a certain proviso, compensation paid by a State or "political subdivision thereof," such as a county or city, to its officers and employees is not taxable services of such officers and employees must be rendered in connection with the "essential governmental functions of the State of political subdivision," as distinguished from its proprietary functions. The salaries of the governor of a State, mayor of a city, councilman, board of aldermen, public-school teachers, policemen and firemen are not taxable. But the compensation received by employees of water-works owned and operated by a municipality, or of a municipally owned and operated street railway is taxable, for the reason that they are engaged in the activities of a State which are not governmental.

Fees for special services to a State are taxable, as for example, compensation paid architects and builders for planning and erecting a State capitol, courthouse, or other State or municipal buildings. An officer or employee of a State, for the purpose of the income tax law, is one whose services are continuous, and not occasional or temporary.

In general, the salaries of Federal officers and employees are subject to the income tax. The salaries paid Federal judges are not taxable, the United States Supreme Court having so decided.

Compensation paid by the District of Columbia, Alaska, and Hawaii to its officers and employees is taxable income, as they are not States or political subdivisions thereof.

FEDERAL REFUND ON P. O. IS MADE

Checks Are Received By Residents Of Decatur Today

The United States government today was distributing more than $5,000 in Decatur as refund to citizens who had advanced money for completion of the federal building in accordance with the original plan. Most of the checks were for $253.31, representing the pro-rata share of the subscribers to the fund, without interest.

When the original appropriation was made for the courthouse, it was thought large enough to provide for a two-story building. The war came on, however, and building costs advanced to such an extent that it was discovered that the appropriation was large enough to provide only a one-story structure.

Two courses were open, one to delay the building until the appropriation could be increased, or to advance the difference in the appropriation and the new contract price, which course was taken by citizens who advanced something more than $5,000 for the project.

BELLE MINA BANK IN ANNUAL MEET

The Belle Mina Bank has closed another successful year, according to the reports heard by stockholders who gathered Wednesday for the purpose of hearing those reports and electing directors. The bank paid stockholders an eight percent dividend for the year, payable semi-annually.

At the stockholders meeting the following were elected directors: J. R. Witt, B. N. Bibb, S. J. Nethery, J. J. Pettus, E. P. Garrett, J. Sam Smith, H. B. Zeitler, J. H. Peebles, Jr., R. P. Roberts, O. C. Ratliff and Clyde Hendrix.

The directors chose the following officers in a meeting held directly after the stockholders sessions: Clyde Hendrix, president; I. E. Hogan, cashier; J. R. Witt, chairman of the board; B. N. Bibb and H. B. Zeitler, vice-presidents. The bank reported earnings for the year of 22 percent.

University Petition Will Ask That Woman Dean Be Appointed

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 27.—A petition asking that the University of Alabama add an academic dean of women to its staff of instructors will be circulated among the alumnae of the state by the Womens Alumnae Association of the University of Alabama, organized here.

The position is not intended to replace any existing office, it was explained. A desire to make it possible for the alumnae to retain membership in the American Association of University Women is behind the action. One of the by-laws of the latter organization is that colleges whose graduates are eligible for membership should have an academic dean of women.

For the last five years, the American Association of University Women has permitted membership of University of Alabama graduates by special courtesy, it is said, but unless all requirements are met before the national convention in April, this privilege will be withdrawn.

The alumnae also believe a dean could give university girls much valuable assistance with their curriculum, personal advice and help them in choosing careers.

Officers elected by the Alumnae Association are: Miss Jennie Perkins, president; Mrs. Zara Powers, recording secretary; Miss Bessie

In ROOFS...

Celotex supplies insulation where it is most needed. Costs very little and year after year saves fuel.

Piercing Cold..Beating Heat

This lumber builds against them

[NOT CUT FROM TREES]

NO longer need you put up with hot attics and uncomfortable upstairs rooms in summer... with the costly waste of heat that leaks out through the roof in winter.

Modern builders are insulating roofs with an amazing lumber that makes your home summer cool and winter warm... more economical to heat... stronger.

This amazing lumber is Celotex—not cut from trees but manufactured in broad strong boards from the tough fibres of cane. It stops heat, cold, wind, and moisture far better than the usual wall and roof materials, yet costs little or nothing more.

Celotex is used either over or under the roof rafters. For best results, both uses are recommended. If your house is already built you can line your attic with Celotex.

Celotex also brings great comfort and economy when used as sheathing (replacing wood lumber)—under plaster (replacing lath) and as interior or exterior finish.

Let us tell you more about this Amazing Lumber.

How children quickly Gain robust health

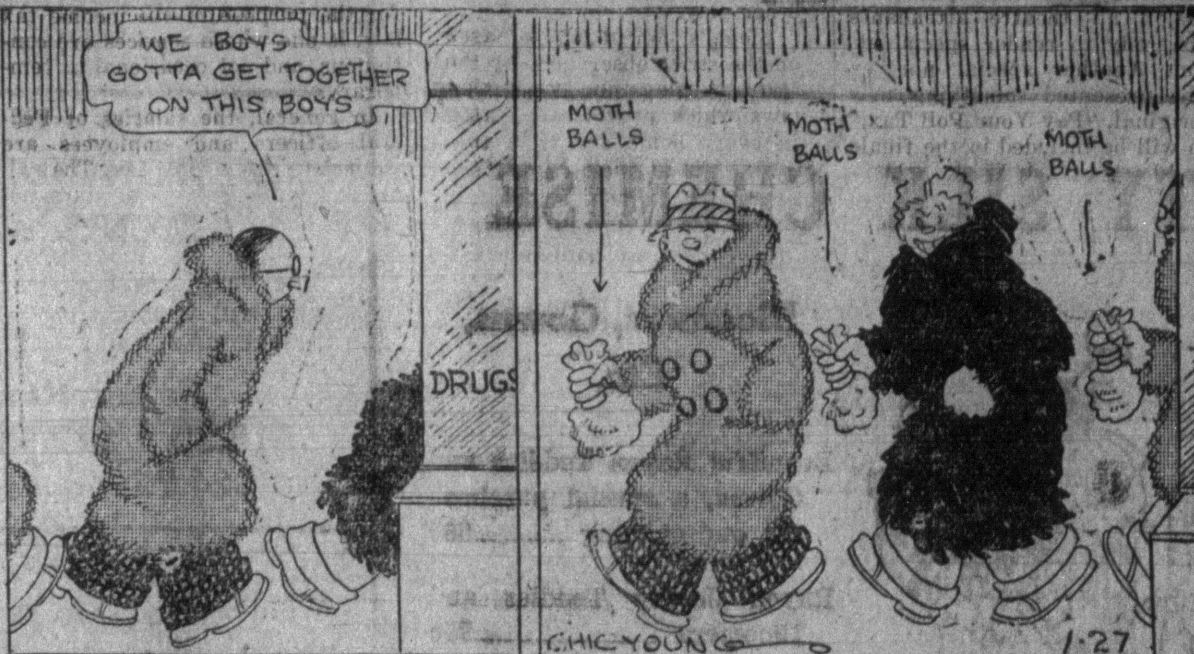

For weak, puny, inactive children—especially those that have rickets, and need a sure builder that promotes the growth of teeth and bones, cod liver oil is the one medicine supreme—nothing helps like it.

But it is nasty and repulsive and evil smelling and nearly always upsets children's stomachs—so now up-to-date pharmacists advise McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, with their wealth of vitamins.

Children love them as they do candy, because they are sugar coated and easy to take. One boy gained 11½ pounds in seven weeks, and is now healthy and happy—thousands of other children have grown strong and robust.

Sixty tablets for 60 cents at Caddell Drug Co., and druggists everywhere. Try them for 30 days and if you are not happily satisfied with the test get your money back. But demand McCoy's—it pays to get the genuine—adv.
